Killed in Action, April 19, 1944

"Here dead we lie because we did not choose
To live and shame the land from which we sprung.
Life, to be sure, is nothing much to lose;
But young men think it is, and we were young."

President's Address

It is my pleasure, as president of the Class of 1946, at Waterbury High School, to speak to you for my fellow graduates.

We proudly and sadly dedicate our yearbook to our deceased member, Thomas "Buster" Flannery, who was killed in action on April 19, 1944.

Many other members of the class of 1946 have served, or are serving, in the armed forces. We particularly wish that they might be with us, on this day, but they are widely scattered. Some are on Guam, others in China.

It is with regret that we leave our patient, understanding instructors. During the past four years, it has not been easy for them, with all that has been going on in the world, to keep our minds occupied with school. Our hopes are that we have not been too mischievous, and though our actions do not express our feelings, we think that you are all grand.

To the underclassmen, we wish to say that Waterbury High is a wonderful school, and we are proud to join its alumni. Mr. Spencer and the school directors are trying hard to keep our school in good repair. They are most generous in doing anything that will help to improve the appearance of our building. We hope that you will do all that is within your power to cooperate with them. You are fortunate in being able to attend such a splendid school; be proud of it!

Now, that we are about to graduate, we can think of many things which we wish we had done differently. Please try, for your own sake, to get the most from your high school education. Maintaining a high scholastic average is equally as important as setting a good record for the school in sports and other activities. It is easy to see that a good education is necessary to obtain a good job, and to hold it. Many of this year's seniors are continuing on to more advanced training. Make the most of your opportunities, so that you, too, may take advantage of higher education, which will be a necessity of the future. It requires hard work and patience to get to the top, but success lies there, and high school is fun and so is college.

We have worked hard on studies and various projects; attainment is worth the effort. With the world problems of to-day facing us, we shall have to work even harder. It is up to us to become the future citizens of the world. We must try to understand and solve the problems that are confronting us.

We will miss each other in the years to come, and so it is with sad, but happy hearts, that we leave our old High School and all the pleasant associations connected with it. We shall return from time to time because, as the saying goes, "A bad penny always returns."

—JOHN RUSSELL.

Class Song

Now, our high school days are over,
And our quest begun.
We remember days of gladness
And of battles won.
Alma Mater, Alma Mater,
Love we always thee.
God beside us, stand to guide us,
Ever valiant be.

When we think of days departed,
And of joys we knew,
Always there to stand before us
Is our high school true.
Far or near, we have devotion;
We'll remember long
All our teachers, who have taught us,
"Unita Durant."

—THEDA STEWART.

In Unity There Is Strength

In this time of reconstruction
From a furor which depressed,
We must strive for restoration
Of the world to righteousness.

In pursuit of education,
We have learned through give and take,
Thoughtless acts and misconception
Are humanity's mistake.

Now, we will use strength and thought
To hold the peace for which men fought;
And ardently work for security
Provided by world-wide unity.
"Unita Durant," is our cry;
We'll be a credit to Waterbury High.

—THERESA WILLIAMS.

This, Our Goal

As we stand upon the threshold
Of a higher, fuller life,
We, the Class of '46,
Gird ourselves to meet the strife.

It's a sick world we are facing,
Battle-torn, war-scarred, and starving.
We will need strong-hearted courage
To bring order from this chaos.

Let us pray, then, that our journeys,
From this happy, carefree school time
O'er the roads which we are choosing,
Show that lessons we have learned here
Have engrained upon our hearts—symbols,
That each place where we may linger
May be better for our passing.

This, our goal, not pomp our power,
But a saner, wiser people,
Working side by side together,
For a peace that will be lasting,
And true brotherhood of man!

H. EARL LUNGE.

Our Past

Early in the fall of 1934, thousands upon thousands of innocent children all over this broad land of ours lost their freedom behind the doors of public schools. Among those unfortunate youngsters were these specimens who now compose this Class of 1946.

We were, undoubtedly, the cockiest group to ever assault the grade building. In this, our first year of learning, we were corralled by Miss Olmstead. Under her patient guidance and long hours, we finally learned what it was all about.

We ventured into the second grade with swelled heads, and thought, of course, we owned at least the world, if not more. Miss Alice Collins, who was our teacher, soon made us realize that we were but one small pebble on the beach. One sunny afternoon during this year a loud howl was given out by each one of us; it seemed that vaccinations and innoculations were in progress.

The next year found us in the third grade, with Miss Joslyn behind the desk and Howard Naylor under it. A new member joined our class, namely, Billy Havey, who wept copiously that first day; so his mother stayed close by his side, trying to convince him that we weren't as tough as we looked. It was in this class that we learned where and how the cave men lived, through history and geography. Honestly, I think this was where we gained our wild ideas and actions that have made us famous ever since.

The fourth year, we had graduated to the upstairs, where Miss Wheeler attempted to teach us the rudiments of manners. Here, our musical education began in earnest as we tried to warble tunefully. In spite of our worries about the neatness of our room and long division, we struggled through another year.

Our fifth year was a period of progressive learning under Mrs. Miller. Fractions were the order of the day; although most of us were too dumb to understand them, we were good at bluffing even in those early days. This was a bad year for Malcolm Whalley. Mrs. Miller said to Malcolm after he had performed one of his foolish stunts, "You know, I always knew redheads were dumb," and Malcolm, under his breath, came out with, "Yes, and you're red-headed." We pitied Malcolm, and even more so, when he and Sis, Skippy Rogers and Erlene Martin got starry-eyed for the first time.

The next year, we moved into the middle building to pester Miss Jackson. Here, under her capable tutelage in nature class, we learned all about the birds and the bees.

Then came that unforgettable day when we stormed the doors of the seventh grade, thinking that we were quite grown up, being in Junior High. We were greeted by those famous words, "Calm right down now," spoken by Miss Flora Carpenter, who was to be our Math and History instructor. This year, we learned about the greatest operation ever performed, "Lansing Michigan."

The eighth year, we found ourselves lost in the new building, with

Miss Laura Demeritt trying to keep track of us. We published our first paper, two issues of the "Sub-Frosh Gazette," under the able guidance of Miss Carpenter. We met Mr. Rowe for the first time, and had to make up our minds whether we were afraid of him or not. (I guess most of us found out one way or another, and I don't mean maybe!)

At last, the eventful day came when we finally entered high school. We were freshmen, and the first big thing that happened was the freshman reception. It was then that the girls got a good look at the boys' legs for they had to wear skirts during the week, and the boys saw how the girls looked in pigtails. Believe me, it was quite a sight! Many new students joined us this year from surrounding schools, which made us sixty-three strong. During this first year the following officers served: President, Bob Luce; vice president, Howard Naylor; secretary, Sis Naylor; treasurer, Marilyn LeBaron; advisor, Miss Myrna French. Hardly before we knew it, we had been promoted to the sophomore class. During this year, our boys were dreadfully neglected because the major interests of the girls centered around those wonderful specimens of manhood (so they thought) in the senior class.

Even at this early date we proved our worth in athletics by having five girls and three boys on the varsity basketball teams, namely, June Charles, Sis Naylor, Emily Collins, Arlene West, Merry Rowe, Lester Durett, Howard Naylor and Bob Luce.

We had our first one-act play, "Luncheon For Six." The cast was as follows: Martha Collins, Marilyn Bower, Marilyn LeBaron, Trevor Towne, Howard Naylor and Edward Robbins. Our officers were: President, Bob Luce; vice president, Norman Nelson; treasurer, Barbara Trask; secretary, Sis Naylor; advisor, Mrs. Post.

Our Junior year was a busy one. Probably our biggest thrill was when our one-act play, "The First Dress Suit," won the class tournament, the district tournament and went to the state finals, where it placed second. This entitled us to participate in the New England Drama Festival. Townspeople, at the suggestion of a W. H. S. alumnus, James Boyce, very generously donated to a fund which made the trip to Providence, Rhode Island, possible. The cast of this play consisted of Barbara Trask, Marilyn LeBaron, Garland Fletcher and Bob Luce. We had a grand time even though Marilyn nearly had to bum from Providence to Boston. The class officers, Bob Luce, Norman Nelson, Barbara Trask, Martha Collins, and every single member of the junior class worked long and arduously to make the prom a huge success. Our theme was a gypsy caravan, and all enjoyed dancing around the realistic campfire.

At prize speaking, three members of our class took honors, Elaine Horner, Merry Rowe and Bernard Woodard, proving that they could easily join a vaudeville circuit, Elaine as an orator, Merry as a tap dancer and Bing as an operatic soprano. Elaine also carried the lead in the operetta, "Chimes of Normandy," in which several other members of our class participated.

A trio from our class, "The Sunshine Lassies," composed of Irene Spence, Merry Rowe and Elaine Horner, was organized in Junior High days. They have been in popular demand at local and out-of-town functions ever since.

Then came the long-awaited senior year, when we enrolled thirty-one strong. Our first big task was the three-act play, "Applesauce," with the following cast: Martha Collins, Merry Rowe, Arlene West, Edward Robbins, Trevor Towne, Bing Woodard and Bob Luce. There is one thing that should be mentioned at this time; during one of our history classes, Ed Robbins finally learned the art of cutting out "Paper Dolls," and had to miss a rehearsal.

The Class and Faculty chose Martha Collins for "Good Citizenship Girl," who certainly qualified in every way.

Eleanor Gage and John Russell acted as captains for basketball. Bing Woodard was captain of baseball; and offices in many other organizations were held by various members of our class. A complete summary of all activities is found elsewhere in this book. The boys' class team won the inter-class tournament in a thriller against the sophomores.

Our one-act play, "Good Medicine," won the class tournament in December. The cast was as follows: Elaine Horner, Barbara Trask and Edward Robbins.

A member of our class, Roberta Farr, won first prize for girls in the prize speaking contest.

The officers for our last year have been: President, John Russell; vice president, Edward Robbins; treasurer, Barbara Trask; secretary, Martha Collins.

In May, we were given a Prom by the Juniors, which will long be remembered; and we wish to extend our thanks to them for the wonderful time which was shared by all.

The following boys from our class have joined the armed forces of Uncle Sam: Thomas Flannery, Lester Durett, Harris Desorda, Louis Messier, Howard Naylor, Garland Fletcher, Norman Nelson, Thomas Poland, Kenneth Boyd, Leo Bousquet, Donald Farnham, Frank Hayes, Russell Marshall and Leo Metayer.

Our principal throughout our entire school career is the one who has left his mark upon us, perhaps in more ways than one. Seriously, we shall always fondly remember Mr. Rowe, whose influence has brought out our best.

Now that our school days are over and our courses are completed, I wish to thank, in behalf of the Class of "46," Mrs. Curtis Gough, who, as our class advisor, has helped to make our last two years very memorable ones, because of her untiring patience and enthusiastic support.

We wish also to thank the other members of the faculty for their interest and help which have extended far beyond the line of duty.

—ROBERT LUCE.

Girls' Basketball

The feminine Longhorns of 1946 came through this year with a record of eleven wins and three losses. The veteran members returning from last year were Merry Rowe, Sal Randall, Emily Collins, Arlene West, Pat Morrell, Jean Guptil, Arlyne Falardeau and Captain Eleanor Gage. Other girls who reported at the opening of the season were Colleen Stimson, Pat Collins, Ruth Cutting, Mary Deal, Phyllis Falardeau, Ginger Deforge, Dorothy Devine, Priscilla Porter and Mary Jane Talbert.

Our first game of the season was with Williamstown, whom we easily defeated by a score of 43-20. Our first hard game of the season was with P. A. Collins and West tied for high-scoring honors with eight points apiece. This was our first loss of the year, the score being 22-28.

Our two games with Burlington were both victorious. Thomas, Burlington's star forward, was held down to four points at the first game, while Sal Randall accounted for 23 points.

The total points for all our games amounted to 495, while our opponents gathered only 327. Randall led the scoring with 209 points, West and Collins followed with 100 points apiece, and Arlyne Falardeau chalked up 68 points. Merry Rowe, Eleanor Gage and Pat Morrell were consistently dependable as guards.

Four players will be leaving the varsity at graduation; those players are Merry Rowe, Emily Collins, Arlene West and Eleanor Gage, but there is able material in Jean Guptil, Arlyne Falardeau, Mary Jane Talbert and Pat Collins to fill their places.

At the close of our basketball season, we had been defeated twice, while P. A. and B. F. A. had been defeated only by each other. A girls' tournament was supposed to be put on under the direction of Coach Randall. This resulted in a double play-off. Waterbury and St. Albans played off in the Edmonds High gym. It was a hard-fought game by both teams. At the half, the score was 18-15 in our favor, but we were outscored in the last two quarters to make the final score 41-33, St. Albans. Sal Randall played an especially nice game, scoring 23 points, and she deserves much credit, as does Pat Morrell, who held the mighty Babe Dixon to 10 points.

When I extend thanks to Coach Randall for his hard work, patience and time which he gave to our team, I know that I am speaking for the rest of the girls as well as for myself. We are proud to have had for our coach, Bill Randall, who certainly knows his basketball.

—Eleanor Gage.

Boys' Basketball

From the thirty boys who reported, Coach Stone selected the following for his varsity squad: Guards, Bob Farmer, Bud Donovan, Wayne Cutting, Bill O'Brien and Bob Luce; centers, Willard Breen, Dick Izor and Bing Woodard; forwards, John Russell, Bob Talbert and Bud Deal.

The outstanding games of the year were with Peoples Academy, Winooski, Randolph, St. Mikes and Newport.

The first game with Peoples Academy of Morrisville proved to be the Longhorn's first good game of the year, when they defeated P. A. by a decisive 51-20. It was Waterbury's game all the way from the start. Every man was playing at his best. Russell and Talbert took scoring honors for the winners, with 21 and 14 points, respectively.

January 15, 1946, the Winooski Millers traveled to Waterbury, expecting to take the Longhorns by a pushover. It was close all the way. At the end of the first quarter it was Winooski 11-8. By the half-time, Waterbury had turned the tide and had a 19-18 lead over the Herbertmen. After the intermission, both teams came back on the floor with a determined look. In this quarter, while the crowd went wild, the score was tied four different times, but when the whistle blew at the end of the third quarter, it was Winooski 30-28. With the fourth quarter continuing at the same pace, it was 33-all when the four-minute time was called. From then on it was Winooski's ball game, with Companion tossing in eight of the 14 points in the remaining part of the game. When the final whistle blew it was Winooski's game by a score of 47-36. Although down-hearted, the Orange and Black left the floor feeling that they had accomplished something by holding the League's leading team for three and a half quarters.

Then on February 5, the Longhorns played another thriller, but this time they came out on the top end of a 31-30 victory over the great St. Michaels team from Montpelier. It was anybody's ball game from the beginning to the end. The first quarter ended with the Mikemen leading by 9-6, while in the second quarter the Orange and Black got into stride and left the floor at the half-time leading 17-16. In the third quarter, the tide turned again, with St. Mikes leading 25-23. With four minutes to go in the fourth quarter, it was St. Mikes who led 28-27 when Luce came in for his only points of the game and put the Longhorns out in front 29-28 with a long shot, followed by Willard Breen, who put in a lay-up shot to insure the Orange and Black's lead of 31-28. Paxman then put in two foul shots for the Mikemen, making the score a close 31-30. With less than 15 seconds to go, the Longhorns held off the Mikemen to come through with a well-earned victory. Talbert and Russell again led the Orange and Black with 12 and 9 points, respectively.

February 12, when Randolph journeyed to Waterbury, proved to be another exciting game for the fans of Waterbury. The Galloping Ghosts were on the low end of a 12-10 score at the end of the first quarter. And then in the second quarter, DuBois and Wright tossed in six and five points, respectively, for Randolph, to Waterbury's four points. (It was here that Donovan got his beautiful one-hander) to make the lead at the half-time for Randolph, 21-16. Coming back after the half-time, determined to win, the Longhorns outscored Randolph 11-1 in the third quarter, with Izor tossing in eight of them. From then on it was the Orange and Black all the way, holding Randolph down to one field goal and seven foul shots. The game ended with Waterbury out in front by a 43-29 score. The scoring honors went to Russell with 17, Talbert with 12, and Izor with 10. Bob Farmer played a great defensive game for the winners.

The final game of the year was played with Newport, at Hardwick, to decide who would have the right to enter the Class "B" tournament at Barre. Though Waterbury played far from its best game of basketball, this game is worth mentioning. It was the third straight year that Waterbury has had to play Newport to decide a tournament entry. The Longhorns, with Talbert and Russell doing the scoring, led 9-7 at the end of the first quarter. At the end of the first half, the Longhorns led 14-10. The Newport quintet, coming back in the last half, holding the Longhorns to two points in each of the two remaining quarters, while scoring nine for themselves, edged out the Longhorns by a score of 19-18.

Individual scoring honors for the season go to our fast-moving forwards, Bob Talbert, with 236 points, and John Russell, with 206 points. Although Bobby played in three less games than he did last year, due partly to the fact that the schedule wasn't as long, and partly due to sickness, he outscored himself by ten points over last year, when he also led the scoring list. Other scoring honors go to Dick Izor, Willard Breen and Bob Farmer in the order mentioned.

I think that all of you will agree with me in saying that the student body and townspeople of Waterbury are proud of these boys for the fine ball and good sportsmanship which they displayed throughout the entire season.

Johnny Russell, who was a very capable captain, replaced John Magnus, who left the squad because of illness. We needed his height and shooting ability. We boys also missed John's singing in the locker room following practice and games.

Waterbury placed fourth in the Green Mountain League with an average of .500.

Now a list of games played and the scores:

Team	Waterbury	Opponent
Williamstown — H	55	37
Wells River — H	34	16
Winooski — T	24	48

Other Activities

Music Department

The music department has served as a talent bureau, not only for school functions, but also for many local organizations. This practical experience has been enjoyed by the various groups, the boys' octet, the girls' sextet, the Sunshine Lassies, the ABC Trio, the A Cappella Choir, the boys' glee club and the girls' glee club.

The members of the boys' octet are as follows: First tenors, Trevor Towne and Malcolm Nelson; second tenors, John Magnus and Bernard Woodard; first basses, Bernard Keefe and Robert Luce; second basses, Malcolm Whalley and Donald Jewett.

The girls' sextet used the following singers: First sopranos, Erlene Harvey, Grace Izor and Colleen Stimson; second sopranos, Bette Gabree and Elaine Horner; altos, Merry Rowe and Jean Guptil.

The Sunshine Lassies, Irene Spence, Elaine Horner and Merry Rowe, have performed together since Junior High days, a period of six years. Replacing them next year will be the ABC Trio, three sophomore girls, Colleen Stimson, Bette Gabree and Arlyne Falardeau.

Often times the accompanist for group singing has been that capable sophomore pianist, William Goff.

High school groups appeared in the Christmas concert, the Spring concert and the Music Festival at Burlington. At the latter, about forty students sang alone under the direction of Miss Grillo, as well as participating with groups from other schools.

The band has practiced weekly under the direction of J. Leo Messier. Their first appearance was in the parade on Memorial Day.

The combined musical groups elected the following officers: President, Bernard Woodard; vice president, John Magnus; treasurer, Marilyn Bower; secretary, Colleen Stimson. Representatives from the various clubs are Trevor Towne, Patricia Morrell, Willard Breen and Alice Graves. The librarians are Mary Dibbell, Robert Talbert, Alice Graves, John Porter and John Magnus.

The Dramatic Club

The Dramatic Club elected the following officers for 1945-6: President, Edward Robbins; vice president, Bernard Woodard; secretary, Patricia Morrell; and treasurer, Eleanor Gage.

In October, the senior class presented "Applesauce," a three-act play comedy, directed by Mrs. Gough. Appearing in the cast were Martha Collins, Merry Rowe, Arlene West, Trevor Towne, Edward Robbins, Bernard Woodard and Robert Luce.

The one-act play contest was held in December. First place went to the senior group, Elaine Horner, Barbara Trask and Edward Robbins, who presented "Good Medicine." The junior class gave "Ezra Upshot's Triumph," in which Patricia Morrell, Jean Lafayette, Malcolm Nelson, Richard Izor and Bernard Keefe were directed by Miss Alexander. The sophomores presented "Her First Party Dress," with Colleen Stimson, Bette Gabree, Barbara Lunge, Donald Jewett, William Keefe, Harry Spaulding and William Goff coached by Miss Grillo.

One of the state district contests was held here in March when Northfied, Spaulding, Montpelier and Waterbury presented one-act plays. First place was won by Spaulding High School of Barre.

The junior three-act play, "Ace High," was produced in April with the following cast: Jean Guptil, Sally Randall, Geneva Boyce, Patricia

Morrell, Waneta Woodard, Malcolm Nelson, Orvie Jones, John Magnus, Stanley Ather and Lynn Lewis.

Le Cercle Francais

The first meeting of Le Cercle Francais was held February 13, 1946. The officers chosen were: President, Sally Randall; vice president, Malcolm Nelson; secretary, Bette Gabree; and treasurer, Freeman Sweetser. The meetings, under the supervision of Mrs. Durkee, were held once a month. Members of the sophomore and junior French classes presented skits which were usually followed by group singing. Committees were chosen each month to arrange the program and refreshments for the next meeting.

In April the French II class spent an enjoyable week-end in Montreal.

Prize Speaking

On March 22, eight speakers competed for prizes offered by the Waterbury Woman's Club. The first prizes of five dollars each went to Roberta Farr and Allan Luce. The second prize winners, Beverly Haskins and Bernard Keefe, were awarded two dollars and a half apiece. Other contestants were Jane DeForge, Erlene Harvey, Earl Lunge and Rolland Lafayette.

Home Economics Club

The Home Economics Club is made up of fourteen members from the junior and senior classes who are taking Home Economics. The club officers are Betty Harvey, president; Roberta Farr, vice president; Elaine Naylor, secretary and treasurer. Miss Agnes Wasyluk is the advisor. Meetings are held once a month at different homes of the members; at the meetings the girls knit, do fancy work and enjoy a social hour. Refreshments are served. At Christmas time a state child was adopted, and toys and clothing were packed for him. The club was in charge of the Christma program at school. They also served refreshments to the various casts of the one-act plays in March. The annual banquet closed the school year.

The Student Council

The Student Council, consisting of fourteen members, represents the governing body of the school. They have charge of the library and sponsor the patrol.

The Council opens the banquet hall on Saturday nights as a recreation center for students of junior and senior high school age. Mrs. Dorothy Caswell and Mrs. Evelina Breen have served as directors of this project, which is sponsored also by the Rotary Club.

On May 3rd, the Student Council put on the annual Sub-Freshman Day, with the customary assembly, noon refreshments and afternoon ball game.

The officers are the following: John Russell, president; John Magnus, vice president; Elaine Naylor, secretary; Bette Gabree, treasurer; and Mrs. Post, advisor.

The Publicity Club

The Publicity Club is organized for the purpose of informing the community about the various activities which take place at W. H. S.

The officers are: President, Martha Collins; vice president, Jane DeForge; secretary, Emily Collins; treasurer, June Charles. The advisor is Mrs. Post.

Baseball

As this book goes to press, the line-up for baseball is uncertain. Captain Woodard, Luce and Mason will vie for honors at catching. Lynn Lewis is a veteran pitcher. Magnus will probably be found on first base and Russell at third or shortstop. Other members of last year's squad who reported are Talbert, P. Lewis, Brown, Lafayette, J. Harvey, D. West and Jones. Several new prospects will compete with them for the positions on the varsity or junior varsity team.

The traditional game on Memorial Day will be played at Waitsfield. A newcomer on the schedule is South Royalton.

Patrol

The Patrol has been operating throughout the year with Frank Canerdy as captain. He and First Lieutenant Raymond Morse have tried hard to keep it functioning properly. The longest records of regular service are held by Freeman Sweetser and Robert West, with fourteen weeks to date, and Martha Collins with six weeks.

The Debating Club

The Debating Club is made up of six members of the junior class, with Mrs. Post as advisor. This group met other teams in the Vermont Debating Tournament at the University of Vermont, April 26 and 27. The topic for discussion was: "Resolved, That Every Able-Bodied Male Citizen of the United States Should Have One Year of Full-Time Military Training Before Attaining the Age of Twenty-Four." The opposing sides are: Geneva Boyce and Allan Luce for the negative, and Donald Preble and Stanley Ather for the positive. Waneta Woodard and Orvie Jones are alternates.
